THE PROBLEM FOR GAMERS

Gaming is a $500B+ industry, yet players own nothing.

Digital stores sell licenses, not ownership. If that license is revoked, your library can disappear.

- Purchases are just access.
- Bans can erase entire libraries
- Games are removed and vanish forever

Gaming's $500B industry runs on access passes, not ownership.

THE PROBLEM FOR DEVELOPERS.

Creators make the games. Platforms take the reward.

- Fee structures hurt revenue
- Games can be delisted arbitrarily
- Complaints and outside pressure decide what survives

Developers and Creators lose revenue and lose control.

THE SOLUTION FOR GAMERS.

Buy • Own • Resell

- Tokenized game keys = True ownership
- Option to buy or resell on secondary marketplace
- No arbitrary bans

Players deserve permanent libraries, not temporary access.

THE SOLUTION FOR DEVELOPERS.

Fair economics and lasting control.

- VECTOR offers developers fair fees
- Royalties on every resale (if enabled)
- Games cannot be removed by outside pressure
- Built to empower creators, the lifeblood of gaming

Developers keep more and earn more.

HOW IT WORKS

FOR GAMERS

- VECTOR Client = buy, play, resell
- Tokenized game keys = immutable, auditable proof of ownership
- Blockchain verification under the hood, invisible to players

FOR DEVELOPERS

- Plugins for Unity, Unreal, Godot
- Seamless integration into existing workflows
- Publish once, earn perpetually

THE CRACKS OF A BROKEN INDUSTRY ARE SHOWING

Resale once thrived $2.4B in used sales at GameStop in 2019, yet the developers earned nothing from this.

Thousands of digital titles have already been delisted, erasing libraries

Stores and payment processors decide what games survive

PLAYONVECTOR

where ownership is restored, and creators are fairly rewarded.
